GASTROENTEROLOGY PROCEDURES

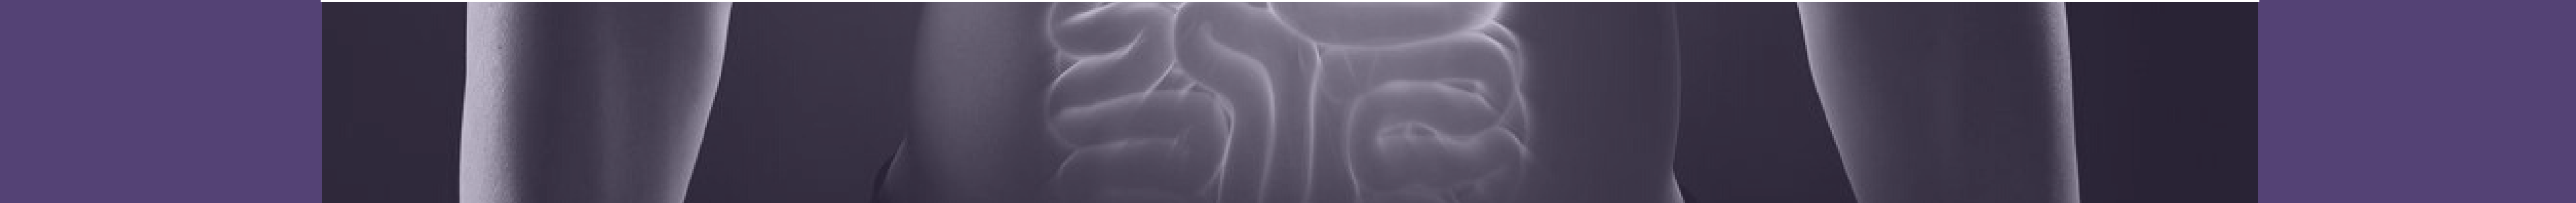

HEMORRHOIDS

Hemorrhoids are veins around the anus or lower rectum that have become swollen and inflamed. Hemorrhoids are extremely common in men and women. Our hemorrhoid specialists offer advanced hemorrhoid treatments to get you back on track.

LASER HEMORRHOID REMOVAL

Our doctor are familiar with effective treatment options for hemorrhoids including laser hemorrhoid removal and hemorrhoidal banding. To eliminate hemorrhoids, infrared coagulation (or IRC) has been shown to be effective and fast acting.

COLONOSCOPY

Colonoscopy is considered the gold standard of colorectal cancer screening methods. It allows our GI specialist to examine a large intestine.

Colonoscopy is also effectively used to evaluate symptoms including rectal bleeding, chronic diarrhea, chronic constipation.

BREATH TESTING

Breath test is used to diagnose conditions such as fructose, lactose intolerance and SIBO. These disorders create a chemical response that can be measured in your breath.

UPPER ENDOSCOPY

Upper endoscopy is a procedure to examine a person's upper digestive tract. With our high definition endoscopes, we can visualize the esophagus, stomach, and upper part of the small intestine to make an accurate diagnosis.

HIGH RESOLUTION ANOSCOPY (HRA)

Patients at higher risk for anal cancer should have an anal pap smear performed. High Resolution Anoscopy (HRA) is a test that is used in conjunction that allows the doctors to evaluate for possible cell changes that have the potential to develop into anal cancer.
